On March 30, 2010 the Court set the above-captioned case for trial in the week of September 22, 2010. The Parties have conferred and disclosure statements will be simultaneously exchanged on July 21, 2010. After reviewing these disclosures, the parties will propound discovery requests, review discovery responses and conduct depositions. Additional time is necessary for the parties to sufficiently complete discovery to stay ahead of the current deadline set for dispositive motions, in the event such a motion may be filed.

In addition, after counsels' discussions, it has become apparent that due to the volume of documents that will be exchanged and the likely related necessity of trial testimony on these documents more than four hours will be needed at trial. It is also possible that after reviewing the documents produced by the Debtor, Plaintiff may opt to employ an expert witness for this case. As such, the Parties believe that the trial will require two to three days to complete.

WHEREAS, the Parties request that the Court extend the dates in the Trial Scheduling Order and enlarge the time set for trial as detailed in the proposed Order being concurrently lodged with the Court.

RESPECTFULLY SUBMITTED this 1st day of July, 2010.
